“YES” TO THE KING

The Church crowns the year of grace, its liturgical year, with the solemnity of Christ the King. We could assume that a celebration of this magnitude would provide us with an easy, clear presentation of who Christ is and who he calls us to be. But this feast flings the paradoxes of Christ’s kingship in our face. Is Christ all-powerful? Is he the Messiah, the Anointed of God? Is he a victim, powerless in the hands of mortal rulers? Is he dead on the cross? Is he alive in the splendor of eternal light? Is the inscription above his head true? Is he Shepherd or slaughtered lamb? The answer is “Yes.”

What may be even more difficult is that we have also answered “Yes” to following this complex, paradoxical King who reigns from the cross of death, who upsets our expectations and challenges us to upset many of the expectations of the world around us. But before we despair of being able to sustain the difficulty of this mission, we are also strengthened by Paul’s words to the Colossians. We are reminded that if we keep our eyes fixed on the cross, the throne of Christ, we will also find and know the source of our reconciliation, our peace, and our hope to join him, sharing the inheritance of the holy ones in light everlasting.

PARISH PASTORAL LIFE

FAITH FORMATION

RESPECT LIFE

The "culture of death" disregards the sanctity and dignity of life and so misunderstands dying claiming that life has value only to the extent that it is productive, when it brings pleasure and well being. Thus death is senseless if it happens to young people with a promising future; and rightful liberation for someone in pain or doomed to suffering.

If we are young or adults, or have a serious illness, or are close to death and we define our worth and sense of self only in terms of our 'usefulness' to others or 'productiveness'; then, if we become a burden, therefore there is no hope and taking one's life is an escape.

And so, when we perceive ourselves as a burden, the choice to end one's life is a manifestation of hopelessness, worthlessness, loss, despair -in most cases-

Euthanasia is define as "an act or omission which, of itself or by intention, causes death in order that all suffering in this way may be eliminated" ..

Physician-assisted 'suicide' "occurs when a physician facilitates a patient's death by providing the necessary means and information to enable the patient to perform a life-ending act."

Some call them mercy killing because they "provide a solution" to profound human fears: of dying, of losing control, of having terrible pain. But in reality they move beyond stewardship into dominion, they imply that we have absolute control over life and so contradicts who we are as faithful stewards of God's gift of life.

Diminishing life in general also contributes to the high rate of youth suicide, in their desperation to make a change or communicate distress. There lies a challenge as a catholic community to prevent it and to help the parents that are left behind.

Here in our little church with a big heart, we count with the ministry of bereavement, whose members have always open hearts to support us when we lose a beloved one and receive spiritual nourishment; and, of course, our parish will provide us with the proper liturgical services.

Congratulations to Fr. Bob Fuchek; Honoree of Florida Benedictine Spirit Award. Every year, during the Saint Leo Prep/Holy Name Academy Reunion, one of its alumni receives the Florida Benedictine Spirit Award. Fr. Robert Fuchek, a priest of the Diocese of Orlando and Pastor Emeritus at St. Timothy, is selected as the recipient of this year's award. This Award was established four years ago by the President of St. Leo University. Prioress of Saint Leo Monastery, and Abbot of St. Leo Abbey. The previous recipients of the Award have proven that leaders of the Benedictine institutions which share the lakeside campus have chosen wisely and well. The award is conferred at the annual St. Leo College Prep/Holy Name Academy Reunion Luncheon held this year on Saturday, November 13th.
